March 14, 2024

After a thorough review and consideration of all submitted bids, we have made the difficult decision to reject all bids for this project at this time. This decision was not made lightly and reflects our commitment to ensuring the highest standards and best value for the State Parks' projects.

We are currently in the process of re-specifying and re-packaging the project to better align with our objectives and requirements. It is our intention to invite bids on this project again at a later date, once these adjustments have been finalized.

We would like to extend our sincerest gratitude for the time, effort, and interest you have demonstrated by participating in the bidding process. Your willingness to engage with State Parks' initiatives is highly valued, and we genuinely hope this will not deter you from submitting bids for our future projects.

Please stay tuned for announcements and updates regarding upcoming bidding opportunities. We look forward to the possibility of working together in the future and appreciate your continued interest in contributing to State Parks' endeavors.

Thank you once again for your submission and for your understanding regarding this matter.
