WELCOME TO LARRABEE STATE PARK

Larrabee State Park is set on the seaward side of Chuckanut Mountain, off the famed Chuckanut Drive, close to Bellingham. The 2,748-acre park offers 8,100 feet of saltwater shoreline on Samish Bay, with postcard views of the bay and the neighboring San Juan Islands.

Popular activities include boating, fishing, shellfish harvesting in season, diving and beach exploration. Two freshwater lakes, Fragrance and Lost lakes, are known for their excellent bass and trout fishing. Douglas-firs and Salal shrubs provide shaded hiking and mountain biking trails, birding and wildlife viewing. Clayton Beach, accessible by a hiking trail, features rare sandstone cliff formations and tide pools teeming with life. Group shelters, unsheltered picnic tables and trainspotting are also part of the experience at Larrabee State Park.
